

THERE'S SO MUCH MORE BEHIND A DOOR

Sectional Garage Doors

The Sectional garage door offers the greatest degree of aesthetic adaptability. It comprises a number of large sections or panels that come in a wide range of designs and colours. Sectional Garage Doors are most commonly made from pressed steel, but can be manufactured from timber to provide a more natural look.

B&D also offers Australia's premium Pinchfree sectional garage door, the Panelift, which has been designed so that there's little chance of fingers being caught between panels, either inside or out.

FEATURES & BENEFITS

- Large range of designs and profiles available
- They open upwards and run parallel to the ceiling
- Unlike traditional 'tilt' doors, they do not swing outwards to open
- Vehicles can be parked right up to the front of the garage door without impeding its opening
- In the event of damage, sections or panels can be replaced individually
- Require little headroom
- Fit easily into very wide openings
